Hiring Manager & Team

BRIDGE Academy

To whom this may concern,

My name is Qryshaun Jordan, and I am currently teaching in South Korea as an English instructor for elementary and middle school students. I am excited to apply to Bridge Academy because your emphasis on academic communication, critical thinking, and student-centered learning aligns closely with the kind of teaching I have built through my experience abroad.

In my current role, I teach reading, writing, speaking, listening, literature, and debate across multiple proficiency levels. I have worked with students completing analytical writing, presentations, and structured academic discussions, and I regularly guide them through evidence-based argumentation, literary analysis, and debate formats such as Asian Parliamentary and Public Forum. My classrooms are structured, interactive, and focused on helping students think independently and express ideas clearly.

Teaching in Korea has strengthened my classroom management, adaptability, and ability to work with a wide range of personalities and learning styles. One of the most rewarding parts of my work has been watching hesitant students grow into confident participants in discussions and presentations. I aim to create a classroom environment that is organized, engaging, and academically challenging while still encouraging students to take risks and build confidence.

Before teaching, I worked in luxury hospitality and residential operations in Nashville and Chicago, including Forbes-rated and high-volume environments. That experience strengthened my professionalism, communication, and composure under pressure, all of which continue to support my work with students, parents, and colleagues.

I earned my bachelor's degree in Fine Art with a concentration in graphic design and additional studies in business from Tennessee State University. My creative background continues to shape how I design lessons that are engaging, thoughtful, and academically focused.

I would welcome the opportunity to contribute to Bridge Academy's students and team. Thank you for your time and consideration, and I look forward to the possibility of speaking with you.

Sincerely,

Qryshaun Jordan
