Teaching English In Korea

RE: Kindergarten, Elementary Teacher Wanted

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my interest in a Teacher position in Korea, as advertised. I am interested in a full-time position but I will consider part-time work too. With four years of experience as an English teacher and a strong commitment to creating engaging learning environments, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute to one of your schools.

My previous role has equipped me with effective teaching strategies that align well with most teaching frameworks and curriculums. I have honed my skills in leadership and problem-solving, allowing me to foster a supportive classroom environment where students are encouraged to explore their potential. My interpersonal abilities enable me to connect with students on a personal level, ensuring they feel valued and motivated.

I hold an accredited bachelor's degree and have completed comprehensive TEFL training (Level 5). Although I am currently residing in , I am willing to relocate within one week. I have also worked in South Korea before, I believe having adapted easily to different cultures will be an advantage over other candidates. Additionally, having recent classroom-based references (available upon request) underscores my dedication and effectiveness as an educator.

The vibrant settings of your schools is appealing not only for their location, but also for their promise of collaborative teamwork among dedicated staff members. The comprehensive packages you offer reflects your commitment to supporting educators both professionally and personally.

If you believe that my skills and experience align with your needs, I am ready to start immediately. I aim to ensure a smooth and seamless integration into your team.

). It would be an incredible opportunity for me to be considered for this role. Thank you for taking the time to review my application.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the possibility of contributing positively to your institution by inspiring young minds through service-oriented teaching practices.

Sincerely,
