

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my interest in an international teaching position with your school or program. I am an experienced and passionate educator with a strong commitment to student growth, cultural exchange, and creating engaging learning environments.

I hold a Bachelor's degree and a TEFL certification, and I bring K-12 teaching experience across multiple subject areas, including English, ESL support, reading intervention, and fine arts. Throughout my career, I have worked with diverse student populations and learning needs, which has strengthened my ability to adapt instruction, differentiate lessons, and create inclusive, student-centered classrooms.

My teaching approach emphasizes creating a positive and supportive learning environment, encouraging student confidence and critical thinking, and making lessons engaging, interactive, and culturally responsive. I value building strong relationships with students and families and believe that connection is key to student success.

In addition to classroom instruction, I have experience developing lesson plans, assessing student progress, managing classroom behavior, and collaborating with colleagues to support school-wide goals. I am especially passionate about helping students develop language skills in a fun, motivating, and structured way, which aligns well with international and ESL-focused programs.

I am excited about the opportunity to teach abroad, not only to share my skills and experience, but also to learn from new cultures, educational systems, and communities. I am adaptable, dependable, and enthusiastic about contributing positively to a school's mission while continuing my professional growth.

Thank you for considering my application. I would welcome the opportunity to further discuss how my background, education, and passion for teaching can benefit your students and school community.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Malika Young
