

About Me

I am a dedicated ESL educator and researcher who approaches challenges as opportunities to develop new teaching strategies and skills. I believe meaningful educational change begins in the classroom and is reflected in everyday communication. I value creative thinking alongside language mastery and recognize that language learning is not one-size-fits-all. I therefore tailor my ESL lessons to accommodate diverse learning styles, proficiency levels, and cultural backgrounds. I encourage students to actively engage with English by challenging language concepts and applying them to real-life, academic, and professional contexts.

Experience

Language Institute

2024- Present

Key responsibilities:

- Delivered engaging English lessons to elementary-level students using Chungdahm's structured curriculum
- Prepared students for presentations, assessments, and performance-based evaluations
- Managed classroom activities to maintain a positive and disciplined learning environment
- Monitored student progress and provided feedback to support language development
- Collaborated with fellow instructors and staff to ensure consistent academic standards

Education First | TEFL Teacher

2023

Key responsibilities:

- Teach English to students from various parts of the world
- Grade students after the session

University of Witwatersrand | Academic tutor

2022 - 2022

Key responsibilities:

- Critically analyze course material,
- Teaching course material and evaluate ideology and political theory
- Marking students papers

References

- Danny Heo
- Thandeka Ndebele